

Name:

Homework

Who should get a green card?

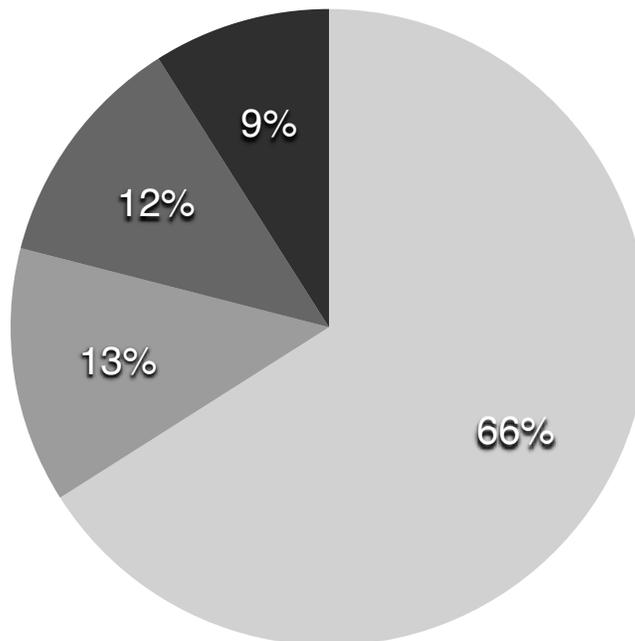

Green cards allow immigrants to enter and stay in the U.S. with legal rights.

We've learned that most people who get green cards come from 3 different groups.

- Family members of U.S. citizens or legal residents
- People with job skills that employers need
- Refugees who fear for their lives if they stay in their home country

In one recent year, here's who got green cards:

- Family and Immediate Relatives
- Employment
- Refugees and Asylees
- Diversity and Other

Snapshot of U.S. Immigration 2019," ncs1.org, March 29, 2019

continued

Homework | Who should get a green card?, continued

Which group of immigrants gets the largest number of green cards?

Which group of immigrants gets the smallest number of green cards?

Going forward, who do you think should get the most green cards?

Check one:

- family members
- skilled workers
- refugees

I think this group should get the most green cards because
