Read this paragraph from Chapter 6 of The Skin I'm In. Underline the consonant blends in the bold words.

I keep stepping, and tell Daphne she's got the wrong girl. But I ain't as cool as I seem. My fingers are starting to shake, and my throat is dry as toast. Daphne's itching for a fight. I can feel it. The next thing I know, she's grabbing hold of my braids.
