“All of a Sudden”

In Guided Reading, you read “All of a Sudden, the Poem” (Locomotion, pages 53-54).

Lonnie’s friend, Angel, says he’s going to write a book of poems called All of a Sudden, The Sun. He says his poems will be about something happening that you don’t expect. Angel’s friends make fun of this idea with silly poetry book titles like All of a Sudden, The Pepsi Cola Can.

→ Make up one silly title like this for a book of poems and one serious title:

Write down some ideas for poems about things happening that surprise us. Angel’s idea is the sun coming out when you don’t expect it. What else could a surprise poem describe?
