Ariana's heart was pounding as she leaned against the store's unattended makeup display. She tried to hide her apprehension, or nervousness, about what she planned to do. Quickly, she slid two tubes of lipstick into her purse. As she walked out of the store, she appeared calm, relaxed and nonchalant. But on the inside, she was panicking.

"I can't believe you made me do that," Ariana wailed.

"Relax," said Jada. "I didn't make you do anything."
